10-4. I'm done for the day, but may take a couple of hours this weekend to try to work on this presentation, if you approve.

Ok, thanks. Please hold off until you hear from me. s.38 [REDACTED] are démarching Yasemin next week – probably Monday or Wednesday. We are not sure of the topic but could be the convoy.

Hi Bill,

Apologies for the delay. For Monday. We can also attach the message to the missions in the core, as discussed.

Good afternoon,

Thank you for your patience regarding this matter. We have noted your concerns and are preparing further information with particular attention to missions that may be affected by road closures in the downtown core of Ottawa. We are also working to confirm those details that may help you respond to your questions and will get that information to you at the earliest possible opportunity.

Best regards,

Bill Guerrero

Redactions on page 3 and 4 of this document relate to an enquiry to GAC from a diplomatic official seeking guidance on the state of emergency in Ottawa and any new rules or restrictions. The official was involved in hosting a meeting and was concerned about possible problems with accessing offices in downtown Ottawa, including closed roads and inaccessible garages. The official wanted to confirm that they were free to enter and exit the offices and that only in special emergency situations (i.e. being stopped by demonstrators, experiencing a building intrusion) should they call the Ottawa Police or the RCMP.
